CANVASS OF GOVERNOR VANCE

Hon. Z. B. Vance has been invited to speak in various counties of the East, finding himself pressed for time before the assembling of the Baltimore Convention to which he is a Delegate, has arranged the following brief canvass for a few counties of the East. Friends are requested to have conveyances ready to take the Governor rapidly from point to point:

ERRATA.

It is impossible to avoid typographical errors in the office of a daily newspaper. We have become so accustomed to them that they have ceased to annoy us. We rarely call attention to them unless a wrong impression is produced. The following, which occurred in yesterday's paper, was not the fault of the Political Editor:

"It is strange the Era cannot discriminate between principal and spoils."

We wrote principle distinctly, but the types would set it otherwise.

As this is a matter of principle, we desire to protest that the error was not ours.

THE SMOKE BRIGHTENING.

VANCE TO THE FRONT!

We have the pleasure of laying before our readers this morning, a list of appointments in the East, by Governor Vance, which will be followed by others in the West, as soon as the Baltimore Convention adjourns.

This news will send a thrill of delight through the State, and will arouse enthusiasm in every County.

We call upon our exchanges to give as much publicity to these appointments as possible.

Let the tour of our distinguished ex-Governor over the State be one continued ovation.

Let our people everywhere turn out in large numbers to greet and welcome this favorite son of North Carolina and eloquent champion of our cause.

Our people, especially in the East, are anxious to hear Governor Vance on the great and momentous issues involved in the present contest. No man has a deeper hold upon their affections than he.

The combat thickens! Our best and noblest men all over the State are putting on their armor.

Soon Ransom, and Cox, and others will make appointments and their eloquent voices will be heard ringing from mountain to plain.

North Carolina Republicanism is trembling with fear! The pangs of dissolution have seized upon its vitals! The death-damp is upon its brow.

It has been weighed in the balance, and found wanting. It deserves to die.

We have good tidings from all over the State. From the East, West and Centre we have very encouraging news.

The skies are brightening! The dark night of Radicalism, with its shadows of desolation, is breaking away before the light of an assured Democratic triumph.

In August the sun of victory will blaze forth in brilliant splendor, and North Carolina will be forever redeemed.

RELEASE OF TREZEVANT.

The arrest of Capt. Trezevant in Charlotte, by a Marshal from South Carolina, was an outrage of the grossest character and an insult to the State. We have already spoken in the strongest terms of this great crime on the soil of North Carolina.

We told the people of North Carolina that they had nothing to hope from Gov. Caldwell, whose conduct on a previous occasion, when Pettis was arrested in Cleveland, was evidence sufficient that his Acedency had neither the moral firmness nor State pride to protect the rights of the citizen nor the honor of North Carolina.

Therefore, we were entirely prepared to see Caldwell again getting on his knees at the feet of his master Grant, and crawling in the dirt before his majesty Ulysses the First.

But to behold! while a servile Governor is cringing before the footstool of power in Washington, the prisoner is released from captivity, and restored to his friends in Charlotte—no evidence having been adduced against him.

This reminds us of the Governor's attempts to catch Littlefield.

W. H. Trezevant has returned to North Carolina—but for this, no thanks are due to R. Caldwell.

Oh, shame upon such a Governor!

BOYDEN AND THE HOME STEAD.

We call on The News for its authority for stating that Judge Boyden is opposed to the homestead.—Raleigh Era.

It was charged publicly, on the stamp and in the newspapers, in the canvass of 1871, that Judge Boyden concurred in Judge Pearson's decision that the Homestead law, in the State Constitution, was not good against debts contracted before the adoption of the Constitution.

It is understood by the profession throughout the State that Judge Boyden is of the opinion that the Homestead is not valid as against old debts.

The charge has been made time and again, and has not been denied.

If the question should be brought up again before the Supreme Court, from Judge Boyden's well known views on the subject, it is almost positively certain that he would decide with Judge Pearson, that the law is unconstitutional as applied to contracts made before the Constitution was adopted. In other words, that the Homestead can have no retro-active effect, but holds good only against such debts as have been made since the Constitution went into effect.

FROM MORGANTON.

From a private letter from a friend at Morganton, we learn that the "West is all right for Merrimon and Hughes," also that the "wheat crops of Burke are exceedingly fine."

THE LLOYD POISONING CASE.—A motion was made by Mrs. Lloyd's counsel for bail on Monday morning, but was refused. She will not be indicted at this term, Professor Toney not having arrived this morning, as was expected. It is supposed he did not get through with his analysis, and therefore could not make his report in the case.

IT IS A LITTLE SINGULAR THAT THE BEST

poems concerning the war between the States have been written since the conflict ended.

That a cause like that for which we of the South contended—a cause which aroused the patriotic impulses of the human soul—a cause which incited to noble deeds of valor and prowess—a cause which produced heroes and martyrs whose names should be enshrined in immortal story and song—such a cause did not inspire the highest strains of martial poetry, strains worthy of the exploits, sacrifices, unexampled bravery and noble achievements of our gallant soldiery, is a matter of surprise and regret.

True, we had some creditable poetical productions, of which we are justly proud; but we do not think our Southern poems of the war, as a series, are of superior merit, and it is a rare thing to come across one that deserves to be handed down to posterity.

We published in these columns last week a sweet, sad poem, on "The Dead Confederacy" by Fannie Borland, (Mrs. Moore), which was much admired, and we have the pleasure of laying before our readers to day the following beautiful production from the pen of Father Ryan. We think this gifted gentleman has rarely written anything more beautiful than the SENTINEL SONGS.

"When sinks the soldier brave
Dead at the feet of wrong,
The poet sings and guards his grave
With sentiments of song.

"Go, songs! he gives command,
Keep faithful watch and true;
The living and dead of the conquered land
Have now no guards but you.

"And Ballads! mark ye well,
Thrice holy is your trust;
Go out to the fields where warriors fell
And sentinel their dust."

"And the Songs, in stately rhyme
With softly-sounding tread,
March forth to the end of time,
Beside the silent dead."

"And when the fœman's host,
And hate have passed away;
Our guard of songs shall keep their post,
Around the soldier's clay.

"A thousand days may glow
A thousand days may wane,
The deathless songs where the dead lie low
True to the last remain.

"Yea, true! they will not yield,
To tyrants or to time;
At every grave, at every field
Where men die deaths sublime."

"Lone vigils they will keep,
Obedient to our call;
And they will watch when we shall sleep—
Our last and only guard."

"What though our victors say,
No column shall be built
Above the graves where the men in gray
Lie mouldering in their guilt?"

"Ah! let the tyrant curse
The dead he tramples down!
Our strong, brave songs, in their sweet
Fear not the tyrant's frown."

"What though no sculptured shaft
Commemorate the brave?
What though no monument epitaphed
Be built above their grave?"

"When marble wears away,
And bronze is rusted out,
The songs that guard our soldiers' clay
Will still fulfill their trust."

CHATHAM COUNTY.

We have very good reports from Chatham. Major Smith, with his flaming handbills decorated with the "Eagle bird by chance," has not succeeded in getting respectable audiences. We learn from a source, entitled to the highest credit, a gentleman who was present at several of his appointments, that his meetings have not averaged fifty persons, all told, blacks and whites, Republicans and Democrats.

Hon. John Manning replied to him at Pittsboro and at Womble's store with telling effect.

The Major is evidently much discouraged. The cold shoulder he received in Chatham has dampened his ardor considerably. He is hacked already, but will become still more disheartened when the canvass fairly opens.

COL. DUNCAN K. MCRAE ON GREELEY.

We publish the following extract from a letter sent us by a young friend of Memphis, recently of Granville County, which was addressed to the Editor of the Memphis Appeal.

Col. McRae's name has been prominently mentioned as a candidate for Congress from the Memphis District, and his letter is a reply to the request of his friends, urging him to allow the use of his name in the Convention.

Col. McRae has many friends in this his native State, who will be rejoiced to hear of the fame he is making in his adopted home.

After stating that while he shall put forth no claim to the nomination, and does not wish to be considered a candidate before the Convention, yet he would not feel at liberty to decline the nomination if voluntarily tendered, Col. McRae proceeds to give his views on the "situation." We have only room for the following, from which it will be seen that he strongly endorses Greeley:

"Never since the two ears of 1840 and 1848, has the unmistakable flow of the popular impulse, when it breaks loose from its leaders, been so manifest as now. When General Harrison and General Taylor in their untutored political utterances, penetrated the popular sympathy and set it ablaze with enthusiasm, politicians and party vanity sought to stay the devouring element, and were consumed in its progress."

And so it is now. From every point the air comes freighted with the assuring evidence that the people of the whole land, affected by a happy reaction by the persuasive precepts and example of Horace Greeley, and awakened by his soul-stirring appeals in behalf of the social and political amelioration, have thrown off the rule and discipline of party allegiance, and are moving on in phalanx, shoulder to shoulder, to the reform of evil and the establishment of universal good. It is impossible to look upon the people's candidate, the very embodiment of the idea of humanism without warming to the unsullied integrity. He is today to the youth of America—nay, to the youth of the world—a remarkable delineator of the straight line and the perpendicular. For Horace Greeley owes all he has of prestige, position, fortune and popularity to self-produced qualities of labor and fidelity and benevolence. He is the best selection of a self-made man that the votary of individual merit has ever had offered for his suffrage. He will go into the Presidential chair pledged:

First—To maintain all political rights and franchises which have been acquired, that they shall be guaranteed and respected. And thus he consummates a labor of thirty years of love to the colored people of the country.

Second—that all rights and franchises which have been lost shall at once be restored and re-established, on the broad basis of universal amnesty and impartial suffrage. And thus he levels a fatal blow at the insensate hate which distinguishes for punishment—not for superiority in crime, but for malevolence—and which deprives the nation of the services of some of its most capable and meritorious men.

Third—He maintains that local self-government, with due reference to the constitutional obligations, shall be preserved; that the Federal power shall be felt only for protection, and not for direction and control, thus reviving the admiration of the people for Hamilton and Jefferson, Clay and Rutledge, Webster and Calhoun, and leading them to associate in their affection 1872 and 1776, and to cherish in harmony, Warren and Jackson, Washington and Lee.

Fourth—He maintains that the vile corruptions of the civil service shall be truly and thoroughly reformed; and that the President shall stand aloof from the exercise of Executive influence on the questions of tariff and revenue, and leave the people's representatives free to reconcile the varied interests of industry in this vital matter of political economy. Exempt from the contaminating and controlling influence of Executive dictation, who could wish a better government than we should have, conducted on these principles?

What matters it that the President may be a plain and unpreferring printer and farmer, not gifted with the graces and blandishments of address and manners which might entertain nobility? What matters it if he should be, in his old coat and hat, rather than roll in buggies behind fast horses, holding the reins like an expert, and bathing in crimson-flannel suits and swim in ecstasy with some buoyant partner familiarized to the recherche habits of Long Branch?

What matters it if he does have the raw and unsavory directness of unsophisticated honesty; wanting the diplomatic arts and wiles which make direct and indirect claims to the homage of politicians? Why, these are the very qualities of the masses. They are the attributes of the American people, and the man who thus combines these is the type of the American popular character.

Any man who will travel the public roads and the by-ways and lanes, and stop at the villages and hamlets and hotels, will find thousands of Horace Greeley's, for his virtues he possesses in common with the masses, being of kin to the people, and the secret of his wonderful popularity is their recognition of the relationship.

The spontaneous and heartfelt tender by the South, of its support to Greeley, refutes the slanders the administration is obliged to employ, so completely that the grizzly man of Illinois and the minor of Pennsylvania and the manufacturer of New England are hastening to overwhelm the mean subterfuge. And throughout the North the cry of Ku-klux and rebellion is now understood as the aspiring appeal of rancor to prejudice, in the interest of unscrupulous politicians.

It was quite fit that the Grant Convention should be presided over by Thomas Settle, and that Orr should be a ruling spirit. These Confederate warriors, who have been the cowardly oppressors of their own people for gain and hire, would be out of place in the service of Horace Greeley. He would put a mark on them, which cash-bills where they belong, and it is a mark that will be indelible. When in after years, posterity shall pronounce scallawag—it will be to define—"a leper white as snow."

I beg pardon for the length into which I have been led. I could say a great deal more, but each day now will tell its own tale, and every day will swell the band who go to the rescue of an imperiled country, and to the restoration of equal rights all over the land.

D. K. MCRAE.

THE NEW TOBACCO LAW.—Under the present law, tobacco dealers are not liable to a special tax unless the sales exceed $100 per annum, but under the new law all dealers in tobacco, whether their sales exceed $100 or not, will be liable to a special tax of $5 per annum. Under the present law, dealers are required to pay a tax of $2 per $1,000 on all sales in excess of $1,000, but this tax the new law repeals entirely.

IN MEMORIAM

SALLIE H. BOYD LITTLE, infant daughter of George and Homoclose Little. Aged 4 months and 7 days.

NY J. H. P.

No gorgeous tablet marks the spot,
Where Homer's little child reposes,
But there blooms one "forget-me-not"
With clusters of delicious roses.

No epitaph records her name,
No lonely cypress there is weeping,
With stork's tale to speak her fame,
Or say, "this Sallie's form is sleeping."

But evening dew lies longer there,
And summer's breeze is softly sighing,
Around the spot where one so fair
Is in her peaceful slumber lying.

I love to muse, when none are nigh,
Where the pine-tree branches wave,
And hear the winds with softest sigh
Sweep o'er the infant's grave.

It seems a mournful music, meet
To soothe a lonely hour;
Said though it be, it is more sweet
Than that from pleasure's power.

Mourn not, Mother, for thy child:
She has joined the angel band;
She lives, she breathes in a clime so mild
With little Sallie in the better land.

Grieve not, Mother, that infant form
May yet be clasped to your embrace,
When seen through the world's dark
You stand with Jesus, face to face.

STATE MATTERS.

Our friends throughout the State will place us under obligations if they will furnish us with any items of news that may transpire in their respective sections, as we desire to make this department specially full.

They charge a man $5 in Wilmington for the privilege of getting drunk.

The Wilmington Thespians will play the "Swamp Angels" next Thursday night.

Mad dogs and hydrophobia are becoming alarmingly abundant in Rutherfordton.

The Wilmingtonians are departing to their summer headquarters—those that are able.

LACY D. PHILLIPS, the oldest Mason in Newbern, died in that city June 16th, aged 63 years.

A LINE of boats will soon be put on Dan River, between Danville, Va., and Hairston's Ford.

Gov. CALDWELL has appointed Dr. F. W. Potter, Quarantine Physician at Smithville, vice Dr. W. G. Curtis.

A FULLY developed cotton bloom was plucked from W. B. Cates plantation, on the Pee Dee, on the 15th inst.

HON. T. L. CLINGMAN has buckled on his armor, and entered the political war in the West. With such leaders, we are bound to succeed.

The Wilmington Star did not make its appearance in our sanctum last evening. We miss no little the merry little twinkler.

THERE are two editions of the Raleigh Era, one in this city and one in Goldsboro, though in the latter place it is called the News.

HENRIETTA FOSTER, a colored damsel, gave birth to three loyal leaguers on Friday night. They are all well, and the Vindicator man wants to name them Grant—Caldwell—Wilson.

R. H. BERRY, a Wilmington fireman, has been awarded a gold medal for being the first at the truck house of the Hook and Ladder Company, No. 1, the greatest number of times during the year.

Among the candidates who have successfully passed examination at the Naval Academy, and are now cadet midshipmen, we notice the name of John W. Alburtion, (or Alburtson) of North Carolina.

The Journal, speaking of the lecture of Rev. Jno. S. Long in that city, on "Love and Ambition," Monday night, says: "He fully sustains his well known reputation." This learned essay is equal to the best effort of his life.

SCHENK, the Radical mail agent on the A. T. & O. Railroad, arrested and committed to jail in Statesville for stealing tobacco, was aided and abetted by a Radical alderman of the place—Truly it is the party of progress.

The Charlotte Observer contains a long letter from the Hon. D. M. Barringer, of this city, in reply to a letter from Maj. J. G. Harris, wherein he favors the revival of the old military spirit which once prevailed in the valleys of the Yadkin and Catawba.

The Newbern Times, not only purloins from our State columns a news item, but perverts it to a base use, thus adding insult to injury. It says: "We learn that a dozen leading Democrats in Buncombe county, have declared for Gov. Caldwell." This article appeared in the News, using "Republicans" and "Judge Merrimon" which was based upon information received from a reliable Buncombe county gentleman. The Times never received any such information as it states.

Wanted to Whip the President—A Scene at the White House.
Prince Georgean on the Rampage.
One morning last week, a tall, wild-looking man was noticed walking about the lower rooms of the Executive mansion, and officer Kearney, regarding him as a suspicious character, questioned him. He stated that his name was Richard P. Jones, from Prince George county, Maryland, and demanded to see the President.

Being told that President Grant was absent from the city, he demanded that he should be telegraphed for at once, as he (Jones) had whipped the world, and could not rest satisfied until he had whipped the President, who ought to be ousted and the Pope of Rome have his place. Officer Kearney took the wild champion into custody and started with him to police headquarters.

After proceeding quietly for some distance, the prisoner suddenly turned on the officer and attempted to break away, tearing his coat in the effort. Officers Duvall and Shelton came to the rescue, and the prisoner was safely taken to headquarters and locked up, a large crowd following him to the door.

The Mysterious Disappearance of a Young Gentleman of Richmond.
About the last of May, Mr. Frank N. Johnson, who was employed at the grocery and commission house of Messrs. S. C. Tardy & Co., was sent to Chula depot and other points on the Danville railroad to attend to business of the firm. On the 4th of June he got off the cars at the depot above mentioned, and spent the night with the railroad agent. On the morning of the 5th he went to Scott's shop, which is two and a half miles from Chula, as well as to Trueheart's which is near Mattox depot. He returned to Chula the same evening, and about 5 o'clock was seen to get in the cars bound for Richmond. This is the last seen of Mr. Johnson, and some of his friends in this city fear that he may have been foully dealt with, as his visit to the country is said to have been made with a view of collecting for the firm by whom he was employed. Others fear that he may have fallen into the river or dock while on his way from the Danville depot to the store, supposing that he had reached Richmond safely.—Richmond Dispatch.

It is said to know that the Emperor of Russia couldn't or wouldn't shake hands with Lieutenant Frederick Grant. It is a great light to bear, and the Emperor is certainly a great bear to sight.—Washington Star.

THE LEESBURG POISON CASE—A Woman Poisons Her Husband and four Children.

LEESBURG, VA., June 16, 1872.

Thinking probably your readers would like to hear something from the great Virginia Poisoning Case, a reference to which I saw in the News, I will try and furnish you with a few facts in relation thereto. In 1868, Mr. Charles E. Lloyd, the proprietor of a Restaurant known then as the Eagle Hotel, and a man of very temperate habits, was taken sick and remained so for several days, getting no worse, but at once he was taken violently ill and died. It was a shock to us it is true, still nothing was thought very mysterious about his death, as he had been known at times to suffer intensely with heart disease. Two years after this event, on a Saturday in August, 1870, George and Henry, aged respectively 6 and 7 years, the sons of Mr. Lloyd went out blackberrying, and according to their mother's statement, ate some poison oak, from which George died the next day, and Henry on the following Monday. This very sad event cast a gloom over the entire community, as they were both bright and fine looking boys and well known throughout the borough. No suspicion, however, of foul play was dreamed of in either case. Two years more elapsed, which brought us into the present year, 1872, in the earlier part of which the two little girls, Maud and Annie, the last of the Lloyd family, died very suddenly and under very suspicious circumstances. The poison Registers of the different stores here showed that she had bought arsenic immediately before the death of each child. Accordingly a warrant was issued for her arrest. The Coroner, Mr. R. M. Bentley, summoned a Jury of Inquest, and it was agreed to submit the stomachs of the children to Prot. Tony, of Wharton fame, for analysis, which was done and the result was, that one and a half grains of arsenic was found in one, and one half in the other. Mrs. Lloyd is now confined in the jail here awaiting her indictment, which is expected to take place on Monday next. The affair has caused considerable excitement throughout the State.

The majorities of Indiana in the past four years have been as follows: For Governor, in 1868, 961 Republican; for President, 1868, 9,572 Republican; Secretary of State, 1868, 3,558 Democratic. These figures furnish an index to the campaign. The State is Republican when the effort is made, but in "off" years and on a light vote, the Democracy have managed to slip in by a bare majority. We set it down in 1872 for Grant and Wilson.

Red Cloud, Red Dog, and their associated assassins, are delivering set speeches to the people of Philadelphia. Marked as has been the effect of these orations upon the people of the Keystone State, these untutored orators have been more startlingly successful on the frontier of Minnesota, where, in their most impassioned moments, they have succeeded in raising the hair of their auditors.

A locomotive on the Erie railway exploded her boiler near Swan station, N. Y., on Saturday night, instantly killing John Miller, fireman, and fatally injuring Jacob Thompson, engineer, besides slightly injuring John D. Robinson (who was riding on the engine) and a lady passenger.

A Boston paper says: "A hand-organist comes round to our office every day or two and plaintively grinds out about 'Come home, dear father, come home.' He is informed that he need not come here again. The old man went home yesterday."

In the United States District Court at Montgomery, Ala., Judge Busted confirmed the sale of the Alabama and Chattanooga railroad, and issued an order to the assignees in bankruptcy to deliver the road to the State authorities.

Two quarts of hot water, one pound of unbolted wheat flour, will make more eggs when fed warm to hens than twice the amount of whole grain.

VALUABLE LAND FOR SALE.

IN THE COUNTY OF WARREN.

I offer for sale, five hundred and two (522) acres of land, situated in the county of Warren, on Shocco Creek, adjoining the Sulphur Springs. Tract of Col. J. M. Heck, on both sides of the Turnpike Road, leading from the Sulphur Springs to the flourishing Town of Ridgeway, on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, and nine miles from the latter place. There is an Over-seer's house, three cabins, corn-crib and stables on the premises. About one-fourth (1/4) of the tract is in original growth of oak, hickory, &c., one-fifth in second growth pines. The soil is sandy, loam and choicelate—surface undulating—well watered, and about 80 acres of rich bottom land. It yields excellent crops of corn, tobacco, wheat, oats, clover, &c. This is one of the best tracts of land in this section, and will be sold on reasonable terms.
Dr. George Fields, who resides near the land, will take pleasure in showing it to persons wishing to examine it, and is authorized to negotiate for its sale.

6th. The Company is established on a solid and permanent basis, steps having been taken to increase the Capital Stock to $300,000.
7th. ALL THE FUNDS OF THE COMPANY ARE INVESTED IN THIS STATE AND CIRCULATED AMONG OUR OWN PEOPLE. This fact should commend the Company, above all others, to North Carolinians. It is well known that hundreds of thousands of Dollars in Life Premiums are annually sent North to enrich Northern Capitalists, thus continually draining our people of immense amounts which should be kept at home. On this ground the friends of this Company confidently appeal to every son of the Old North State, and ask their support for this HOME INSTITUTION, which, while it offers substantially all the advantages of Northern Companies, helps to build up HOME INTERESTS.
